

Barron William Trump

An Astrological Look at the President's Young Son

It's a bouncing baby boy! Yes, Barron Trump was bouncing when he was born. Uranus on his ascendant (rules his physical body) can make him jittery and seem like he can't be still. Tall and lanky now at 10 years old, he has that Aquarian bounce when he walks. He also carries that awkward shyness that is the trait of a young boy with a 29-critical-degree decan, which puts Libra as the backdrop of that Aquarius on his ascendant. He will be a busy boy.

He is cute now and truly is going to be handsome, charming, restless, and always on the move when older. He is still just a boy, however, and I hope the media gets that and leaves him alone, because his chart shows he is very sensitive. Of course, we know the public and the media won't leave him alone, and he will get more than his share of attention. I just hope it is positive. As he matures, he should develop a thicker skin and be able to take whatever comes his way. I think the sensitive side is strong in him.

I was surprised the first time I saw Barron—he made an instant impression on me. I do see greatness in his stars. Of course, that's his choice, to take the high or the low road of his lot in life. I think I sensed a royal past life. I know he has been a leader before. Where you leave off in your past life is where you start off in this life.

He is only ten but seems much older! Aquarius rules Uranus and Uranus sits close to Barron's Ascendant. As I said, the ascendant is the physical body type, including the looks and first impressions. Barron may be high maintenance, just like his dad. Uranus is conjunct his Mercury and makes for a busy brain that is full of surprises.

Barron could be an inventor and is not afraid to come up with original ideas. He also has Mercury in Pisces, which makes him intuitive and, like his mom, wanting to help the less fortunate, the underdog. The fact that he has so many planets in the First House can make him focus on himself as well. I think his diet will be important, as his physical body is sensitive. No vaccines for this Barron! He will have to go it natural. We can only hope someone notices this need.

His Moon is in the 9th House, which creates a doubly-strong Sagittarius sign. This makes him very patriotic and a crusader for a cause—again like his dad. He will be somewhat interested in politics and may even go into that field as he comes of age. I don't think he will run for President, but with Uranus on his ascendant, he could and will surprise us all.

Having an Aires backdrop in his chart will make him independent. The Aquarius will make him social. Given any goal, he will create a blueprint and go after it. He will need to learn, at a young age, to finish what he starts.

An Aires in a backdrop can also create hard-headedness, and he will have to watch getting too big of a head on his shoulders. I think Melania will be on top of that. He will be curious about all kinds of things.

Conceit and deceit, arrogance and ego, and even betrayal are all the downfall of Aires. He could attract people who would do this to him or he could do it to himself. Hopefully, he learns at a young age to let things go. Being head-strong is the thing, but that aside, his natal astrology shows he has great potential for leadership. Even though others may see some of his independent views as eccentric or different, they still may fit the need of the times. Inventor, goal planner and even visionary are all in the stars of this boy—look past awkward and behold genius!

He may have a bit of a temper as his Mars, which rules aggressive energy, squares his Mercury.

One thing for sure, his mind moves fast and takes in a lot of data. He could have a very high IQ. He absorbs everything just by being around it. Boredom is not his cup of tea.

The strong Aquarian tendencies can cause some eccentricity in behavior. His love of technology and machinery is strong. With Mars in his 4th House, he surely will follow in his father's footsteps and be identified with real estate and/or construction at some level. He will probably be able to talk his way into and out of any situation. He will embody "The Art of the Deal." He will be able to read anyone immediately. He also will finish your sentence before you do.

With Venus in his 12th House, he has a great capacity to love. He will be romantic and appreciate beauty like his mother. Compassion will be his middle name. With Neptune also in his 12th House, he will help others and not let you know what he's doing. (His dad does that a lot, too, but you would have to do the research to find out how big a heart Barron's father has.)

I am not saying he is going to be easy to raise. I hope Melania continues to be strong with Barron's education. Home schooling or private school is perfect for Barron. Gemini rules early education and the 4th House of home and family. He will learn more from his much-older siblings than any school could teach him. Again, he is a sponge when it comes to learning. True genius absorbs and becomes—he just knows. I think he will need to be taught how to handle money as he may be quick to the draw when spending. And he will like to buy machinery.

It looks like he will have a love for spiritual studies as long as they are inspiring. He will be more progressive than traditional religions are and could aspire to the studies of the Rosicrucians or Theosophy, etc. He may look at both Eastern and Western esoteric traditions. He will know about the mystical path and even take it himself. Awkward, eccentric, brilliant, restless, with a heart of gold—his chart shows he has all these traits. He will love all of life and be action-oriented all the way.

Barron will be fun to watch growing up, because you will never know what you're going to see; he will be full of surprises. Sounds a little like his dad? The fruit doesn't fall far from the tree, in this case. Look for a great, sensitive heart and unusual things from Barron. He is a sweetie.

Uranus on the Ascendant can make one look young when old, and old when young. He should watch out for allergies and weird sicknesses. Not that he will be sick—quite the contrary, but his diet will be important. What he puts in his body comes out in his actions. He wants to be strong. So there you have it—a bit of this and that in Barron's chart, which I find quite impressive! ■
