

The Language of LOVE Between Animals & Humans

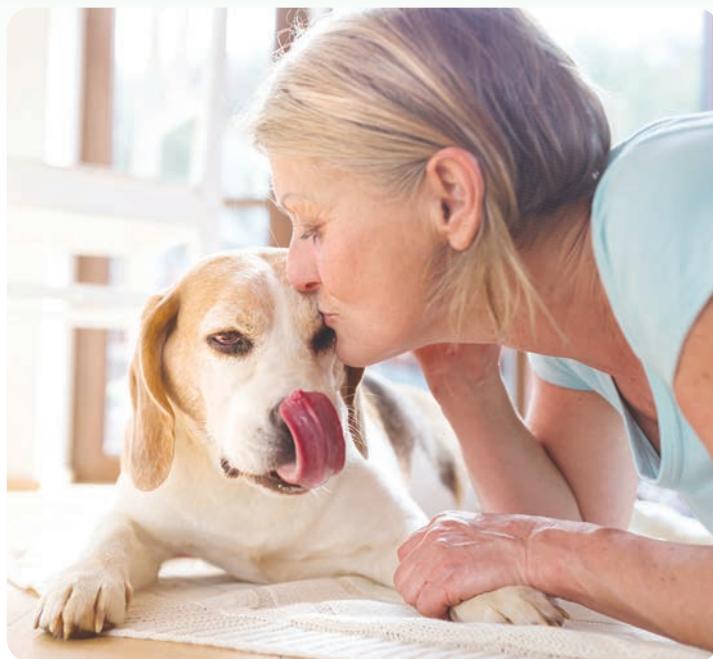

Kim Shotola

While pets desire a forever home filled with love, they also long for the ability for humans and animals to understand one another on a profound heart and soul level.

Animals want to assist you with expanding your consciousness. Those from your past, your present, and even from the wild come to you with messages that reveal their ancient wisdom and can ignite your soul purpose. This awareness can even help you and your animals heal in body, mind and spirit.

Animals can teach you many life lessons and how to take action. They can help you magnify your inner wisdom and sacred connection to all. Animals can show you how to utilize your innate abilities and Mother Earth's medicine chest.

How do you help animals accomplish their mission that many people don't realize? Besides providing unconditional love to them, they would be forever grateful if people could learn the language of love through interspecies communication. Other life forms already know how to do this, and animals are excited about the growing numbers of people that are taking this crucial step in humanity's evolution.

This communication is also called animal communication and telepathic communication. It's a mind to mind, heart to heart and soul to soul connection that allows you to receive images, words, emotions, sensations and an inner knowing from animals and nature.

What's amazing is that when you know this type of communication, it goes beyond being able to have conversations with animals to know what they want from you, what's on their mind, why they exhibit certain behaviors, how they're feeling and how you can help them. You can even have an everlasting connection by speaking to animals that have crossed the Rainbow Bridge.

This impactful skill also allows you to understand yourself and other people on an indescribable level. Everyone is intuitive. Your intuitive abilities can guide you in both your daily personal and professional life, beyond your wildest dreams.
