More Healing Energy —Please!

Soul
A HEALING CENTER

In these unprecedented and uncertain times, we can all use more healing energy—whether it is from taking your favorite hike, watching dogs play in the park, or seeking personal and professional healing. The Bozeman area is definitely the community to find an array of different healing modalities—now with a new healing center in the heart of downtown.

Soul—A Healing Center, located at 101 So. Wallace, offers many natural, holistic, and progressive options in one new and contemporary location. Soul is the vision and creation of two accomplished and reputable energy-healing practitioners from Bozeman, with four practitioners to serve all your healing needs.

MARISSA ALLEN is a Certified McKay Method® Energy Healer, and a certified Medium from the JVP (James Van Praagh) School of Magical Arts. Marissa says: “I offer a natural approach to healing. As an Energy Healer, I provide the treatments, resources, and tools necessary to unlock the innate potential each of us holds within.” Marissa also offers intuition readings, pet readings, and house clearings. Marissa will soon be a meditation instructor with certification from Deepak Chopra.

JEANINE MONNIN has practiced and taught Natural Bioenergetics, formerly known as Health Kinesiology, since 1996, with a successful practice in Bozeman. Jeanine is also trained in Neurological Integration Systems and Nutritional Response Testing.

SHEENA LOPEZ, from Santa Barbara, has practiced Massage Therapy since 2005. She specializes in orthopedic sports therapy and pain and stress relief. Sheena has worked on pro athletes, musicians and many others, and is a trusted, top therapist.

TERESA MAIJA is a Licensed Clinical Professional Counselor who offers a synergistic, intuitive, and heart-based approach to healing and self-empowerment. She weaves together psychotherapy, intuitive coaching, energy medicine, and art expression to uniquely support clients in journeying home to their true, authentic Soul Nature.

These professionals at Soul—A Healing Center are excited to offer holistic, natural, and expert services for both existing and new clients. So much talent and experience—all in one place! ■
