

WE ALL NEED “LIGHT ON THE PATH” & “LOVE ON THE PATH HOME”

David Christopher Lewis

This wonderful magazine shares fantastic articles from health-conscious practitioners and advocates across Montana. We all desire to make a difference by both practicing and promoting lifestyles and modalities that honor the image and likeness in which our Creator has fashioned us—what “nature intended.” Through our own experiences and that of others, we’ve learned that when we move afield from our intended pathway by ingesting unnatural, chemically altered, modified, or biologically manipulated foods, drinks, and drugs, or when we engage in risky or dark behaviors and activities, our bodies, minds and spirits suffer, which allows disease or depressed states to set in.

Conversely, when we return to living as close to nature as possible—eating organically grown fruits, berries, melons, nuts, seeds, vegetables and herbs (preferably local and fresh), and when we act with loving-kindness, our bodies respond and restore us to health, vitality and well-being.

For those with eyes to see and minds to witness, today’s science, agribusiness, medicine, and governments seem to be conspiring to move us into a mechanistic lifestyle, substituting laboratory-produced products and drugs of every kind to mask symptoms, rather than dealing with the root causes of our problems. Enter the current “jabs” promoted by the establishment, based on a fear of contracting a virus that has a 99+% survival rate. Something is “rotten in Denmark,” in the U.S., and around the world, and our souls (our inner genies) all know it.

Many enlightened voices within alternative media and among natural practitioners are now speaking up against this intrusive abuse and all attempts to control our health choices, as well as our other freedoms. During this most unusual and unnatural time, I feel it is important to ask questions, challenge modern orthodoxy, and follow our inner guidance, the still small voice within, that knows the truth and that will guide us to optimal choices at every turn.

We all require light on our path—the light of divine reason, the light of holy wisdom, the light of pure understanding of what is really at play and at stake at this time. Knowing ourselves requires knowing our bodies, as well as our higher minds, our inner spirits, our very souls. And to know these, we must study, pray, investigate, decipher, stretch our comfort zones, and seek out those who are more aware than we are.

These include many brave “truth tellers” and freedom lovers who are now speaking out. Christopher Rudy is one of them. He publishes an online newsletter that shares many cutting-edge exposés and videos. (See his article on page 22.) Also the Hearts Center Community’s “Hour of Truth” broadcast has been airing for 33 weeks now. This is a free weekly session with exposés and messages from the Master Hilarion on what is happening now, why it is happening, and what we can do about it. Even as you check out the various healing and wellness modalities, and the wisdom teachings of those who appear in this issue, I hope you will consider checking out these sessions online. To get there from our homepage at HeartsCenter.org, hover on “Broadcast” on the menu bar. You will see the “Hour of Truth with Hilarion” page in the drop-down menu.

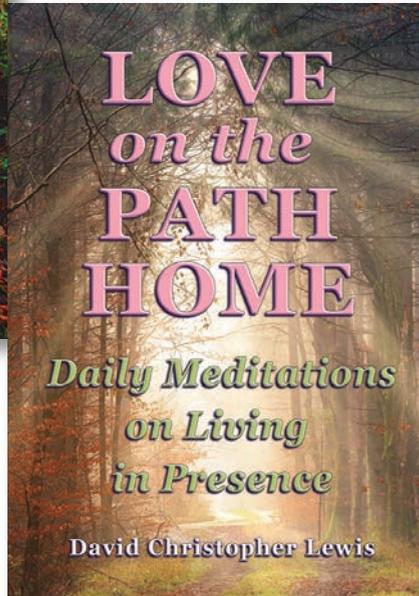

In addition to the truth about COVID-19, including its origins and end-game, you will find inspiring teachings on how to navigate

Truly, this is a time to return to our divine roots, employing Mother Nature as well as our inner gifts, to co-create a positive “brave new world,” free of the impositions of those who work against our best interests, our freedoms. and our highest personal choices.

Upward and onward into the light of the new day! ■

P.S.—As I was typing this article, I received a phone call from an acquaintance in St. Louis who told me that he had read my book, Light on the Path: Inspiration for Each Day of the Year, 21 times and had given away over 60 copies to friends and clients. By the time this issue comes out, our new book, Love on the Path Home: Daily Meditations on Living in Presence, will be published ($12.95). Check it out at The Alchemy Exchange store in downtown Livingston (see ad below), or find it online at Store.HeartsCenter.org.
